Ms. Galle practices public finance and land use law and general corporate and business law. In her public finance and land use practice, Ms. Galle represents landowners and developers on land development issues including infrastructure financing mechanisms such as Mello-Roos Community Facilities Districts and assessment districts. Her corporate and business law experience covers business acquisitions, public and private offerings, and SEC compliance and other corporate governance matters, with an emphasis on emerging growth companies. For the five years prior to entering law school, Ms. Galle held various positions within the commercial lending industry.
